Bite-Sized Self-Care for Working Caregivers

For busy caregivers, self-care can feel impossible to squeeze in. Yes, your free time is limited, but meaningful self-care doesn't have to take hours. Even small actions can restore balance.

Short Moments, Many Times

Embrace small "hits" of self-care throughout the day. They add up, helping you stay refreshed and grounded.

The "Minimum Effective Dose" of Self-Care

Find activities that bring you joy, then ask: what's the smallest unit of this?

You Can't Pour from an Empty Cup

Self-care is not selfish. Taking time for yourself lets you offer more to your family.

Simple Ideas to Start

- Read one page of a book.
- Take one mindful breath.
- Take a three-minute walk.
- Stretch for 30 seconds.
