

Small Moves that Build Big Relationships

Strong working relationships are built through consistent, small moves. The Three “In”s are a framework for those moves, ordered from low effort to high effort.

1 Introduction

Connect them to someone valuable. “I want to get you on X’s radar.”

2 Invitation

Invite them to something valuable - a client call, a strategy meeting, a lunch.

3 Interest

Take an interest in how they’re doing. “How are you holding up?” in the middle of a hard week.

Using the Three “Ins”

Interest is the baseline; use it regularly. Introduction and Invitation are situational; deploy when the opportunity arises.
