High-Impact Habits: Morning Sunlight

A few minutes of outdoor light shortly after waking can meaningfully improve sleep, energy, focus, and mood.

Benefits

- Makes falling asleep easier
- Improves sleep quality
- Increases daytime energy, alertness, and focus
- Boosts and balances mood

How to Do it

When:

Within 30–60 minutes of waking

How Long:

- Sunny: 5–10 minutes
- Cloudy: 15–20 minutes
- Very overcast: 20–30 minutes

Key Elements:

- Go outside. Window light isn't enough.
- No need to look up.
- No sunglasses.

If you can't get outside

- Light your indoor space as brightly as you can.
- Optional: use a light therapy lamp (≥10,000 lux) for 20–30 minutes
